

THE LAST RESORT?

We've been the eyes & ears of our forests protecting it from poachers

We've been living here for centuries...How do we survive without the forests?

We were not allowed to have electricity, how did they get it?

They are chasing us out of the forests like rats.

CALLING TO ACCOUNT

Corporations believe they are exempt from all obligations to society if they can promise returns to their investors and use Corporate Social Responsibility as a smokescreen to detract from their lack of any manner of real accountability towards communities and the people they impact. Corporations need to follow standards on social, environmental, labour and social justice issues based on existing legal frameworks of the country and international conventions.

FOREST FOOTPRINTS

'Bagh, Baiga, Jungle Ek Hain', a woman from the Baiga adivasi community said 'Tiger, Baigas, Forests are one'. With the ingress of tourism and mainstream development into the forest areas, this balance between the forests and human beings has been disturbed, causing the footprints of tourism to overwhelm, that of the animals, adivasis and other forest dwellers.
