Dear Professor Sreekantan,

I cannot adequately thank you and my colleagues for the magnanimous way I was given a fond farewell. The evening will for ever remain a memorable day in my life. Speakers after speakers paid glowing tributes. I am not sure that I deserved them. My sincere thanks to you and all others who made me feel that the 3 1/2 years I spent at the Institute were of value and contribution to its development.

Although I am no more in the Institute physically, I will continue to feel that I am a part of it till the last day of my life. It will be a great pleasure for me to be of some use to the Institute. ~~in case my experience is~~ Please feel free to call me if required.

With my warm regards and best wishes for 1984

I remain
Yours sincerely
M. Sreekantan
