Dear Dr. Krishnan,

I am extremely grateful to you for the kind enquiries you have made in connection with the Ass't Professorship of Vital Statistics. Very probably the post of Statistician to the Economic Adviser will fall vacant after a few months. Of all the applicants from my college in London, Prof Pearson selected Dr. Sukhatame and myself as being the most suited for the post. Unfortunately as I was in England, I was not called for the personal interview though the Public Service Commission had recommended my name too. In these circumstances I think it would be worthwhile going to Delhi and have a casual interview with Dr. Gregory. There are also the heads of other departments whom it may be advantageous to meet.

I have not yet heard anything about the other jobs for which I have applied. I expect to hear in connection with two jobs both starting on Rs 200 per mensem in the next few days.

We are all doing well.

With kind regards,

I am

Yours Sincerely,

C. Chandra Sekar
