Dear Prof. Krishnan,

I am writing this letter to inform you that my friend and colleague here, Dr. G. Santaram, has just received orders to proceed to Calcutta to officiate for Prof. H. E. C. Wilson, Prof. of Biochemistry and Nutrition, All-India Institute of Hygiene, Calcutta. My friend is exceedingly interested in the modern applications of Physics to Biology and he has already some work to his credit in this field. He is quite well versed with the recent developments in Bio-physics and he is yearning to make 'pilgrimages' to your place that ^{has already} produced one N. L. and contains one in the building. I am writing to our friend, Venkateswaran of the Patents office, to look after him and as soon as he is comfortably settled down there, he would make frequent ^{visits} to your place to discuss with you certain of his problems and to carry on some work at the Association. My friend is very enthusiastic worker and he hasn't got the commitments of a family that will preclude his giving undivided attention to his work. I am sure you would find him a sincere and intelligent worker, ever keen on breaking the frontiers of the various branches of Science.

I shall be grateful if you can give him all the facilities for work at your place. I trust you are in the best of health. With kind regards, I remain, Yours very sincerely,

S. Ranganathan
