Looking forward to seeing you again. As I fixed the
The sitting-room door handle you fixed has not given any trouble since. The skelins are still standing & strong overboard!
Your feet - and the red skirt are waiting for you!

My dear Carl, Thank you for your newsy letter and the enclosed photographs of your paintings and the article about you from the Sunday Times. I read it several times. I hope my friends who might have read it will realize that Carl D'Silva is my nephew so that I can shine in reflected glory!

I see you have been very busy! I'm touched you thought of me on my birthday even if you were unable to phone.

Michael manages to get about as usual but unable to do anything in the house. So it is all left to me. I'm not as fit and agile as I used to be, so I have to leave what I cannot cope with. I'm thinking of getting some domestic help - £7 an hour!

One of your associates - was it Mr. Grimmett who went to Indonesia with his family. There was some political trouble there recently and all British citizens were advised to leave. Did it affect him?

Serena has bought another flat - done it up and is now renting it. She says she has to think of her retirement!

I'm pleased you and Barbara have managed to sort out the legal problems. It would be nice to see you settle down to married life and have a permanent home base. I'm looking forward to meeting her one day. I hope Elvis comes round and forgives and forgets whatever Barbara is supposed to have done. Our family have always had hangups about other relatives - the reasons for which I have never discovered! You see we were never able to sit down and thrash it out - all could have been total misunderstanding.
