Dear Dr. Rahmani,

Further to our telecon, below are listed a few of the requirements for my exhibition. I hope these are not too extraordinary.

- ① Exhibition timings - 12 noon - 8pm all days.
- ② One lockable desk.
- ③ About two dozen potted plants.
- ④ One pantry corner - for 'CHAI':!!
- ⑤ One sepoy on hand during office hours.

Could Airfreight - as Corporate members - sponsor the exhibition displays and lighting or at least give us a discount?

I intend having a press conference a few days before 21st March.

Also, any suggestions for chief guest for 21st?

Best wishes

Carl

Dear Carl,

I wish to inform you that under our major project, 'Study movement pattern and dispersal of the Bengal Florican: a satellite telemetry pilot project', funded by the Ministry of Environment and Forests, Government of India, we have to catch Bengal Florican to deploy satellite tracking instrument (PTT).

As the Bengal Florican is the critically endangered species, we have to take extra precaution while catching it for which, of course, we are going to utilize the services of the professional trapper, Mr Ali Hussain. As you have worked with him in Karera and other places and have helped us in preparing dummies of the Lesser Florican, which were very useful to catch the bird safely, I would like to explore the possibility of developing similar life size dummies of male and female of Bengal Florican.

Considering your vast experience in this field, would it be possible for you to prepare these dummies in one month's time? Please let me know the cost of preparation of these dummies. We would be happy to take you to the field during the catching operation. Your expenses will be borne by the project. I would be happy to hear your acceptance to our offer at your earliest.

Thanking you and with my good wishes,

Yours sincerely,

Dear Asad

Thank you for your letter of 7th, yesterday.

Sure, I shall be happy to provide you with the ♂ of Bengal Floricans. But since I did the similar thing about 28 years (!) ago, I will now use modern, durable materials.

I would like to inform you, that the pair of realistic, decoys with some mechanical movements will cost Rs 50,000/- towards materials and development.

If you are agreeable towards the cost, I would appreciate a 50% advance by bank transfer so that I can start work.

Sincerely
Carl
