My dear Krishnan

I was delighted to meet you and hear that you would be joining the Wayfarers and will be able to give us a review of the Pollock-Holmes' Letters during April, or if you like, a substance of your Address to the Aligarh Convocation.

The membership of the Wayfarers involves two essential obligations. One, regular attendance while in Delhi; and secondly, reviewing a book once a year. This is a small circle of friends, and not a Club. It is not possible to allow people to attend or not to attend according to their convenience. If they are in Delhi, third Tuesdays at 6.30 P.M. must be kept reserved for this small body of men and women determined to create friendship by reading and discussing books.

I am sure you are one of the most worthy to join our little band.

Yours sincerely
A.A.A. Fyzee
