Dear Professor Madhava Rao,

Thank you for your letter of September 3. I am happy to hear about your new appointment. I shall, of course, be very glad to see you here, but I am afraid I have nothing useful to contribute to any discussions regarding the Indian Mathematical Society. Should you still wish to come, you would be welcome. I shall keep myself free on Thursday, September 15, from about 12 noon to 3 p.m. and would be glad if you could have lunch with me that day.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

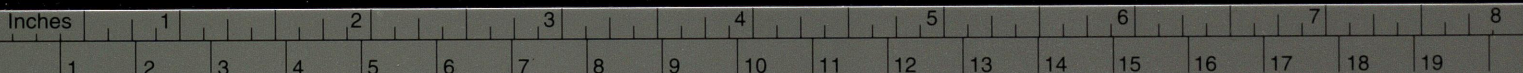

K. Chandra Sekhara
