Dear Aasheesh,

I wonder what has kept you back. After receipt of your letter, I was anxiously looking forward to meeting you and wonder what happened.

I hope that it was nothing serious, but a line in reply would be appreciated.

Happy New Year

Yours sincerely,

Mr. Aasheesh Pettie

Dear Abdulali Sahab,

After my letter of the 13th of December 1991, our programme for Bombay got postponed to the 5th of January 1992.

Prakriti's school was to begin on the 6th, so we dropped her from the trip. Smriti, Prashast and I went to Bombay on the 5th. We were there for a full 10 days. I visited the BNHS for 15 minutes one afternoon, to buy some calendars.

It was a very taxing and depressing trip as Prashast was taken most frightfully ill. We thought he was teething, and so did the doctors. He ran temperature, had a bad chest and a running nose and constantly threw up what ever he ate or drank. I had work at Siemens in Thana and was there from 7 am to almost 7 pm. Back home, and the baby was in a mess. We could not go anywhere outside, for the cold breeze which rose in the evening and morning was devastating for Prashast. By the end of it all, Smriti came down with an attack of food poisoning. She endured it for a day. Finally we flew back on the 15th. To top it all, our phones were out of commission as some ducting work was going on in our area!

I am sorry we could not make it to meet both of you, God knows we wanted to. I hope to meet you on my next trip to Bombay. Wishing both of you all the best,

Yours sincerely

Dear Aasheesh,

Thank you for your letter of the 22nd inst.
which came in today.

I was sorry to hear of your troubles in Bombay, but though I do not see any reference to it in your letter I presume that he must be better now.

We missed the opportunity of seeing you and I was a little worried for sometime. In any case let's hope it will be better next time.

With all good wishes,

Yours sincerely,

Mr. Aasheesh Pittie
