BANGALORE - 560 020

Dear Mr Sridhar,

From my records i notice that i have not received the NEWSLETTER FOR BIRDWATCHERS from May-June 1989 (Vol 29 No 5 & 6) onwards. This may be because i have not paid the subscription for 1989.

I am sending by M.O. Rs 40/- (Rupees forty only) towards the subscription cost of the Newsletter for the years 1989 & 1990.

Kindly send me the following back issues of 1989 and renew my subscription for the current year.

NEWSLETTER FOR BIRDWATCHERS: Vol 29 Nos 5 & 6 (May-Jun '89);
7 & 8 (Jul-Aug '89); 9 & 10 (Sep-Oct '89); 11 & 12 (Nov-Dec '89).

Please send me a receipt for the above payment also.

Thanking you and hoping to meet you soon at the Seminar here,

Yours sincerely

Seasons Greetings and Best Wishes for a Happy & Prosperous
New Year

Goldenbacked Woodpecker (Dinopium bengalense) is equipped with hard chisel like bill to hammer repeatedly into wood. The wedge shaped tail is augmented with stiff feathers to act as a prop while the bird actively moves up and down on the tree trunk. The woodpeckers are apt to be recognised as good indicators of diversity and health of forest ecosystems. They also provide an array of holes for a great number of secondary hole nesting birds, most of which are important in forest ecology.
