

TO	Dr. N.V. JOSHI CENTRE FOR ECOLOGICAL SCIENCES
FROM	N.H. Ravindranath London

Dear Niranjan,

This letter is for you. In response to my fax to Dilip Ahuja, Dilip spoke with Dr. Kirk Smith in Washington. Today Dilip spoke with me from Washington. Kindly send a copy of your CV to Dilip's address in Washington. Another good news for you is that Dr. Veena Joshi is also likely to be involved in the same project. I am sure you will enjoy this news.

Dr. Kirk Smith would like to have a copy of your CV to discuss with his colleagues and then will communicate with you. You may send it to Dilip's address, if necessary he may make changes to it before sending it to Kirk. May be you could send a floppy along with a hard copy by speed post. Also kindly state that though you have not published any papers on carbon flows or global warming or stoves, you are aware of my work, Jamuna's, Dilip's and Veena's work and would be keen to work in this new area. you may also write to Veena and she will also convince you on the work, east-west centre or Hawaii.

Suddenly realised that I do not have Dr. D.Ahuja's address. If you request TVR he will get it from Management Studies. Dr. Gopinath of CAS will also have his address. Dilip's FAX: (202) 479-1009, Bruce Company, Washington. In case you don't get his address write directly to Kirk, quoting the discussion Dilip had with him.
