Dear Mr. Enawishan,

I would like to thank you and the members of the International Commission on Peace and Food for your concern about His Majesty's health and kind wishes for his recovery. I regret not being able to attend the Commission's meeting in Oslo.

I know that the Commission will be addressing topics of timely and critical importance as we respond to the rapidly changing and uncertain world we live in today. The concerns and themes you have stated in your briefing papers and that you will develop this week are particularly relevant at this critical juncture in our world's political, social and environmental history. I commend your vision for the future and I am especially impressed by the innovative programmes and initiatives you have introduced to address these global developmental and survival issues through the peaceful use of military forces, assured employment, transition economics and improved information transfer.

I wish the ICPF much success in your deliberations and hope that you shall let me know how I might assist with advancing your efforts in the intervening period before our next meeting.

I shall look forward to receiving both the Oslo discussion papers and a report of the Commission's future plans by the officer who will be visiting Jordan. The Atlanta meeting is already on my calendar and it will be my pleasure to take part in the discussions and to meet you and the distinguished members of the International Commission on Peace and Food at that time.

With my highest esteem
and best wishes

Queen Noor of Jordan
