Rome, 4 April 1990

Dear Mr. Choudhury,

I am pleased to offer you an appointment with this Organization, the nature and conditions of which are set out in the attached "Terms of Employment."

Confirmation of this offer of employment is subject to a number of clearances and we will contact you when all these formalities have been completed. Therefore, you should not resign your present employment or take any other action which may result in financial loss or personal inconvenience until you have received this confirmation from us.

At that time we will make your tickets available to you through a local travel agent. You should then make your own reservations, and advise me by cable of the anticipated date of your arrival. However, when travelling to or via Rome, be sure to check if you need a visa to enter Italy. If so, it is your responsibility to obtain one for your departure. Entry visas cannot be obtained at Rome Airport.

The effective date of your appointment will be the date on which you begin your official travel to report for duty, by the most direct and economical route.

You will note from the "Terms of Employment" that a number of forms must be completed in connection with your appointment. It is important that these forms and the required certificates be completed and returned to me immediately in order to avoid administrative difficulties when you arrive in Rome.

You are also urged to comply promptly with our medical instructions. The actual cost of the medical examination will be reimbursed, normally up to the equivalent of US$250.

I hope that you will be able to accept this offer of appointment. If so, please sign and return the copy of the "Terms of Employment", together with the required documents.

Yours sincerely,

E. Castagna
