Dear Dr. Joshi:

I have great pleasure in acknowledging the receipt of your review of the book 'A mathematical treatment ... in Biological science' by K. Smitalova and S. Sujan.

I thank you for sparing your valuable time and for reviewing the title for us.

With best regards

I was pleasantly 'surprised' and happy to receive your review. Look forward to the receipt of ~~another~~ review.

If you like to 'review' your review after a couple of weeks, kindly let me know. I notice a kind of anger in it. You may like to tone it down.
Thanks again.

Dear Dr. Joshi:

As you are aware, the Institute has been publishing the Journal of the Indian Institute of Science for over seven decades now. It is now one of the oldest scientific journals published regularly from this part of the world.

I am writing this letter to solicit your support for the Journal by way of original and review papers and other contributions. We at the Editorial Committee are making serious efforts to improve the Journal and to bring into it as much Institute material as possible to reflect the title of the Journal as well as to project the work carried out at the Institute. The abstracts of the Ph.D. and M.Sc. (Engng) theses are a notable feature in this direction. We have also brought out several theme-based issues on the work carried out at the Institute on topics such as Artificial Intelligence and Expert Systems, Parallel Processing, Genetic Engineering and Lecture Series of JN Centre.

Your support to the Journal will be a significant factor in sustaining the interest of the readers of the Journal and also for continuing the procurement of many important foreign journals on exchange basis.

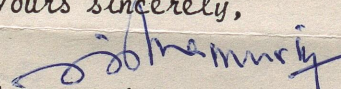

In addition to original papers and general review articles, we shall be pleased to publish reviews of your work over a period of time placed in the context of current state of the subject. We would be glad to bring out theme-based special issues on any specific topic of work undertaken at the Institute. It is also possible to cover the work in the country in specified areas. We would welcome proposals from you in this connection. The Journal would be glad to provide you both editorial and administrative support in this venture.

The Journal is covered by many abstracting services and indexing journals such as Mathematical Reviews, Chemical Abstracts, Biological Abstracts, Engineering Index, etc. We are taking steps to get the Journal covered by the Current Contents too.

I look forward to your positive response to this letter.

With best regards

Yours sincerely,

(S.S. Krishnamurthy)
