Dear Dr. Krishnan,

The C.S.I.R. has recently sanctioned a research scheme on clay mineralogy for pursuit in this Department. Though I am in general charge of the scheme, the junior investigator, Mr. V.S.P.Rao, who is an Assistant Professor here, is actually conducting the research with the help of two geologists.

I am writing to ask you if you would kindly permit Mr. Rao to get some training in the taking and interpretation of the X-ray photographs at the National Physical Laboratory. I imagine that about a month would be necessary, and sometime during next May or June would be convenient, if it could be arranged by you.

With kind regards,

Yours sincerely,

W D West
