Dear Sir,

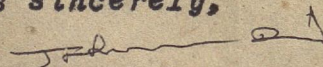

This Data Centre is a project of World Wildlife Fund-India, to collect and disseminate information regarding maintaining sustainable productivity of natural resources, maintenance of genetic diversity and protection of environment.

We are interested in Natural Agriculture as a means of increasing productivity without polluting the environment through the use of pesticides and fertilizers. We would be happy to receive more information on this subject, on which, we understand, you are working.

We also enclose a note about the journal ENVIRONMENTAL RESOURCES ABSTRACTS which we produce. A booklet containing specimen abstracts is also being sent separately by book post. Some of the organisations connected with your work may be interested in this journal. We shall be happy to send them also specimens on hearing from them.

Thanking you,

Yours sincerely,

J.E. DAVID
