Sir,

The highlight of the 1958 Brussels Universal Exhibition was constituted by the "Atomium" which stands as a symbol of the beginning of the atomic age. Belgium's efforts in the peaceful uses of atomic energy are reflected in it and many demonstrations were held in its lower spheres during the Exhibition.

Your acceptance of a miniature "Atomium" as a gift to India's National Scientific Museum from the Belgian Government, which was handed over to you by our Mr. R. Van Roy on the 29th November 1958, is greatly appreciated and I wish to thank you therefor in the name of my Government.

I have no doubt that this gift will always serve to remind the visitors to the Museum of the great tie that unites India and Belgium marching side by side for the common welfare of Man.

Yours faithfully,

Théo. De Dobbeleer,
Chargé d'Affaires a.i.
Belgian Embassy.
