My dear Dr. Krishnan,

I am grateful to you for a copy of the reprint of your article in the "Kalaimagal". You have succeeded in what is now, alas, a difficult art for us; and so you are showing the way even in the art of dissimulation to the masses.

This makes me recollect the inaugural or Readership address of Prof. N. <sup>Young (Mathematics)</sup> to the Calcutta University some years ago, when we were at College. He gave a picture of the various steps in the pursuit of knowledge beginning at ~~xx~~ one end in the creation of new thought and discovery of new ~~knowledge~~ <sup>facts</sup> and ending at the other with the popularisation of the same ~~with~~ <sup>among</sup> the masses. You have now captured both the ends of ~~the~~ flight of steps!

But with all this, <sup>it is</sup> how foolish ~~that~~ I should write this letter even in a foreign language! But that is what most of us are.

With kindest regards,

Yours sincerely,

To

Dr. K.S. Krishnan, F.R.S.,
Calcutta.
