Dear Dr. Daniels:

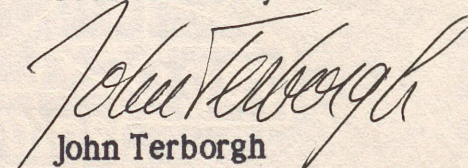

I was very happy to receive your letter because I had been wondering about your plans. You have done well to win a STRI fellowship and I hope you enjoy your stay on Barro Colorado Island.

Your timing is very good. I expect to be in Peru from July through the end of November. Early December would be an excellent time for you to visit. I'm sure I will be able to arrange a place for you to stay. It will be a pleasure to hear more about your evolving interests in bird communities in a heterogeneous landscape.

If you should have occasion to write again before you arrive in the US, my address after June 20 will be: Duke Primate Center, 3705 Erwin Road, Durham, NC 27705. I do not have a personal telephone number yet, but I can be reached via the Primate Center at 919-498-3364.

With my very best wishes for an interesting and productive time in Panama,

Yours sincerely

John Terborgh
Professor of Biology
